Weare/Prancestown Building Fire Rescue Training

On Sunday, June 9, the Weare and Francestown Fire Rescue Departments participated in training provided by New England Fire Training. The main objective of the training was to build confidence in the use of self-contained breathing apparatus, an essential component of a firefighter’s personal protective equipment.

Chris Grover, of NE Fire Training, utilizes a portable maze that replicates the challenges and obstacles firefighters frequently come across during a building fire. A major advantage of this training is the ability to conduct repetitions in a safe and controlled environment where the sole focus is on learning and reinforcing the techniques necessary to deal with these challenges. The seventeen participants encountered various obstacles including narrow passages, wall breaching, wire entanglements, window enter/exit techniques, and firefighter rescue methods.

Tech Notes: What is credential stuffing?

By Jeff Jackson, President & CEO, Summit Computer Services

Remember how every security expert ever warned against reusing the same password for multiple accounts? Credential stuffing is why. When a data breach spills hundreds of thousands of account credentials (usernames and passwords), cybercriminals use that data to “stuff” websites with automated login requests. Any reused credentials will give criminals additional access to other accounts. Don’t let this happen to you! Create unique passwords for every single account and enable two-factor authentication wherever possible. Having trouble remembering all the usernames and passwords for all of your accounts? Get a password manager! It creates, stores, and syncs your usernames and passwords across multiple devices.

Summit Computer Services LLC is a Weare business providing managed IT services, network security, cloud, computing, and VOIP services. www.summitcomp.net or (603) 513-1805.

Delta Swingers at Henniker Concert Series

Tuesday, June 18, 7pm, Angela Robinson Bandstand, Henniker

Boston-based band Erin Harpe and the Delta Swingers will bring their incredible talents to the Henniker Summer Concert Series. Erin Harpe has been called “one of the most dynamic, talented and exciting roots rocking blues women on the scene” by Living Blues Magazine. Winner of the 2018 Boston Blues Challenge, and nominated for 2018 “Blues Artist of the Year” by the Boston Music Awards, Erin is having an exciting year. She recently entered and won the Boston Blues Challenge playing solo. In January she represented Boston at the 2019 International Blues Challenge! On top of that, Erin Harpe & the Delta Swingers were nominated for Blues Artist of the Year this year alongside local greats and friends James Montgomery, Peter Parcek and Danielle Miraglia.

Concerts are Tuesday evenings all summer. All concerts are free (although donations to the Town of Henniker are welcome) and take place at the Angela Robinson Bandstand on the grounds of the Community Center on Main Street (in case of rain, moving indoors to the Community Center). Bring a chair, spread a blanket, visit a local restaurant or have a picnic supper on the lawn and join your neighbors and friends in this community-building event at our bandstand. Woodworking Student Crafts 737 in Pine

Students at John Stark Regional High School have been finishing up their independent final projects in advanced woodworking, a class where they learn different ways to join wood together using a variety of hand and power tools.

"As the name implies," commented JSRHS Tech Ed and Advanced Woodworking teacher Joab Owen, "These are complicated pieces of work. One of the students, senior Sebastian Winsor, completed six pages of calculations to get the correct numbers to craft an exact replica of a 737 jet out of pine to scale. He used power tools to cut the original piece of wood to the correct 3 3/16” diameter he needed and finished the rest of the project using a spoke shave to make the rounded edges of the fuselage and then sandpaper to finish."

Sebastian took several of Mr. Owen’s classes while at John Stark including carpentry, small engine repair and maintenance, and now advanced woodworking manufacturing. He is a member of the JSRHS Gamers Club and Esports Team and plans to attend Nashua Community College to study Aviation Technology.

Other projects created in this advanced woodworking class include wooden spoons and other cooking utensils by Tommy Quinn, a cherry glide bait by Dusty Hallee (who is also on the school's Bass Fishing team), and a live river table made with maple and glass by Will Connor.
